Weekly Reading Tasks (aim to do one per day)

- Daily reading to an adult. Reading to your child is also extremely beneficial!
- Try researching and reading online together all about your body. What can you find out that you didn't already know?
- Read in the most unusual place you can think of- take a picture for me to see!
- Design a poster to advertise your book.
- Write an alternative ending for your book.

Weekly Spelling Tasks (aim to do one per day)

- Choose 5 body parts with tricky spellings. E.g. Tongue. Learn to spell them. Can you put these words into sentences?
- Can you think of 3 different sets of homophones? Create a poster to help other people spell them.
- Nation, station, creation, relation. What word pattern do they follow? Can you write a definition for each?
- Can you think of any other 'ation' words?
- What is a mnemonic? Can you create a mnemonic for a word you find tricky to spell?

Weekly Writing Tasks (aim to do one per day)

- National Smile Month! 😊 Create a poster with instructions on how to look after your teeth.
- You have broken your leg! Write a letter to Miss Hardwill explaining how you did it and why you won't be able to do P.E.
- Create a poem in the same style as this one:

- Draw a picture of your body and label all of the parts that you know.
- Create a fact file all about the human body. (This might take 2 days.)

“That they may have life, life in all its fullness.”
